

A Kitchen Sink War - Dirty dishes beware!

My next XBLCG game review centers around a battle in a kitchen sink! We've all been there before. Before we wash the dishes they are in a constant struggle to see who gets what spot of the sink! That's right! Dishes duking it out, trying to see who reigns supreme. But be careful you don't get sucked into the drain or it could mean a damaged garbage disposal!

I have to say this game is "The Awesomest!" Nowhere else will you get a most realistic simulation of the give-and-take, head-to-head action of the kitchen sink, than in "A Kitchen Sink War" by Anchor Wright, otherwise known as Echs Bachs. The awesome 3d graphics, and realistic "blue spoon" technology puts it heads above the competition.

The game is easy to play and tough to master. Use the left thumb stick to move, and A to fire. Try to kill your opponent or outlast him by not falling into the sink! There's also "hyperspace" just like asteroids! You know as well as I, if it's anything like asteroids, it's got to be good!
